

Mrs. Woodland's Class News

Week of January 16, 2017

Dates to Remember:

January 16th – Student Holiday/Staff Development Day

January 17th – Career Week

January 19th – PTA Family Night Book Exchange

January 20th – Dress for Career Day

What we will be learning:

Math ~ We will be using the hundreds chart to add and subtract numbers.

Language Arts ~ We will continue working on comprehension strategies throughout the year to help us become better readers. We are learning to make inferences or reading between the lines to determine what the author is trying to tell us.

Science ~ We will be learning about rocks and soil.

Social Studies ~ We are learning about Martin Luther King, Jr. and his contributions to our nation. We will be discussing the 7 Habits and determining which of the habits he portrays most. This week is career week, so we will be discussed different careers and the paths students need to take in order to reach that goal.

Notes:

Career Week is this week. If you are interested in sharing with our class or the grade level, please let me know, so we can schedule a time.

Have a great week!!
